Marketing to Goldfish: *Creating High-Awareness Marketing Strategies in a Low Attention Span World

The attention span for the average goldfish is about 8 seconds, and according to new research from Microsoft, that is exactly when people start losing their concentration. Eight seconds, that's it! That's all we have as marketers to make a semi-meaningful connection.

So, how do you navigate this landscape? How do you create patient and customer acquisition strategies in a world of low attention spans and fierce competition? From short-form video to assistive devices, generative AI and a looming cookieless web, garnering attention is harder than ever, and getting it wrong can open the door to competitors. This gives rise to the necessity and art of getting to the point while creating high-awareness marketing strategies.

Join keynote speaker and bestselling marketing author Larry Bailin for a master class in contemporary consumer behavior and marketing practices. Discover the processes and strategies that leading brands are using for acquisition and awareness in a noisy world. Hear about:

- Developing short form thinking
- The physics of marketing
- The link between short-form video and consumer behavior
- The attraction and persuasion behavior that leads to conversion
- Search-to-success processes
- Disruption in an AI-driven world.

Brace yourself for this fast-paced, high-energy keynote designed to keep your attention, even if you are swimming in a sea of distractions. After all, in a world of goldfish-like attention spans, we're all marketers swimming against the current!

Anita Stubenrauch
Author of Apple's Credo and
Founder of Cause:Effect Creative

Purpose-Driven Storytelling: *A Cure for Conventional Healthcare Marketing

In an industry driven by clinical complexity and scientific rigor, the notion of purpose-driven storytelling might seem like a soft and sentimental distraction. Yet, as creative powerhouse Anita Stubenrauch reveals, compelling narratives hold the key to revolutionizing healthcare experiences and outcomes. Drawing from her experience crafting the Apple Credo and advising visionary leaders, Anita reveals the universal principles of effective storytelling and how they can be applied to rally patients, inspire donors and engage employees. Through real-world examples and actionable strategies, she demonstrates how purpose-driven stories can improve the consumer experience, drive patient conversions, boost philanthropic giving and enhance staff retention, among other things.

Discover the antidote to conventional healthcare communication in this thought-provoking session. Learn how to craft narratives that connect hearts and minds to your organization's mission and unlock the transformative potential of storytelling in driving meaningful outcomes. Join Anita and explore the power of stories to heal, inspire and transform the healthcare landscape.
